MOSES SLANDERED JACKASSES, HE IS WARNED BY ROGERS

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 11.—It sure did kick up some excitement in the senate when Senator Moses called the other senators "sons of wild jackasses."

Well, if you think it made the senators hot, you wait till you see what happens when the jackasses hear how they have been slandered.

This Moses, like the one in the original cast, is a kind of amateur prophet, and every once in awhile he climbs to the top of some speaker's table, strikes the stone head of toastmaster and brings forth a wise crack.

So next week I can see the senate passing a resolution to have his form again enveloped in some distant bull rushes.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

New Castle Legionnaires went to Butler today, where they will participate in an inter-county Armistice celebration.

Beaver Falls is celebrating today in elaborate fashion. Pa New passed through the valley Saturday and noticed that Beaver Falls in particular was decorated with an array of flags and festoons. A program was planned at the library building and thousands were expected to march in their parade.

Lights on the new North street bridge improve its appearance.

The new signs directing traffic through the city are of great help to motorists.

Sunday was not a day in which you would much enjoy a ride in a rumble seat, even if you were one of the new rumble seat coats!

Armistice Day 11 years ago, in New Castle, was not quite such a cheerful day as the weather man has presented today. It was rather a cloudy, inclined to be damp day, although it did not rain, as we recall.

Only a few more days grace to have the auto inspected and approved, but there are still a number of cars that are being driven about the streets without approval stickers.

Attorney L. E. Graham of Beaver, who was a candidate for congress in this district a few years since, and who has just been appointed a United States attorney for western Pennsylvania, is being besieged by attorneys seeking positions. Already 55 applications have been received, he reports at Pittsburgh.

Sunday morning's temperature was again at a low point, the minimum for the day being 23 degrees. One of the heaviest frosts of the year was observed.

Yesterday was the first rainy Sunday here in a good many weeks, and motorists who have been accustomed to taking a ride out into the country had to forgo this pleasure yesterday.

There were plenty of spectators at the fire on Fairfield avenue yesterday morning, hundreds of tourists flocking to the scene. All streets in the vicinity of the blaze were packed, the motorists all eager to get as near the scene of the blaze as possible.

The weather today is ideal for an Armistice Day celebration but there

Maxine Eleanor McAllen, aged 8, of Beaver, R. D. Other members of the family escaped with minor injuries and bruises. At the hospital this morning, it was stated that Mrs. McAllen was resting a little easier.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell is making an investigation in regard to the accident.

The accident occurred about 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning on a straight stretch of road toward Wampum from the Piedmont farm, one of the best known properties in the North Beaver township district.

According to first reports received here, the only known casualty was Engineer R. C. Ball, who was badly scalded. Although a number of pas-

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 11.—Charged with being a cold-blooded baby killer, Gladys May Parks today was to be taken to the graves of five-year-old Dorothy Rogers and two-year-old Timothy Rogers.

Miss Parks, former cloak model, declared the death of the children was accidental. She will be asked to reenact the disposal and burial of the children.

Police of Northern New Jersey are searching for traces of other baby victims.

Blackmail Plots

They charged Miss Parks used children, other than the Rogers babies, in a chain of blackmail plots.

"We are of the opinion that the Parks woman premeditated the death of Timothy," said Prosecutor Clifford A. Baldwin, of Camden county, today.

"We have learned that she worried about Dorothy's death as to what she should tell the neighbors about the child's disappearance. This is where the premeditation came in. We are of the belief that the Parks woman came to the conclusion she could explain the disappearance of both children better than one."

Timothy's skull today was found to be fractured in two places. Miss Parks, who was taking care of the two children for their father, Allen Rogers, widow of Woodbury, N. J., claims that Timothy fell down stairs.

Senators' Armistice Day Reflections

Foresee Steady Progress Of World

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—In the eleven years, since a war weary world laid down its weapons of war, civilization has made real progress in its quest for human liberty, education and comfort; in the next eleven years, it will make even greater progress.

This briefly summarizes a cross-section of senatorial opinion on the value to civilization of the political, social and economic developments since the war. According to senatorial opinion, mankind is struggling heavily but successfully toward political emancipation, real enlightenment and better living conditions. The future looks bright.

Senators representing a cross-section of congress were asked the following question by International News Service:

Q: "Eleven years after the armistice, a labor government rules in England, the Bolsheviks grow stronger in Russia, a radical coalition helps the Conservatives to power in France and an insurgent group dominates the American congress. If these developments represent eleven years of human progress since the war, what will the next eleven years bring?"

"Still More Progress"

The answers follow:

Senator Robert F. Wagner (D) of New York: "Still more progress."

Senator George W. Norris (R) of Nebraska: "Eleven years more of progress with the people of this country advancing toward a higher civilization and greater degrees of human freedom and enlightenment. In eleven years, the progressive movement of today will have become the conservative movement. I have high hopes for the people of my country."

Senator Walter F. George (D) of Georgia: "The true interpretation

At eleven o'clock today, not a wheel turned in the office of The New Castle News. In remembrance of that eleven o'clock, eleven years ago today, the machinery was still for a period of two minutes, and the men stood silent. For many of the employees of The News it was a reminder of November 11, 1918 when a strange silence hung over the Western Front when the guns ceased and the Armistice went into effect.

Fire which was discovered bursting from the roof of the home of Dr. George G. Knox of 201 Fairfield avenue, at 10:55 Sunday morning, caused a loss of approximately $3,100. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

The blaze is believed to have originated from a defective chimney, as the greater part of the fire was confined to the attic of the home, some damage being done to the second floor, where the fire ate through the ceiling and dropped down between the partitions.

Plans will be made at this time for the big district meeting which will bring representatives from every city and town in the district along the proposed waterway.

Much interest has been expressed by these out-of-town men in the project, and they are eager to perfect a permanent organization to push the matter before Congress.

Woman Suffers Painful Burns

Gas Stove Explodes In North Hill Home And Burns Are Inflicted

Mrs. George A. Shaffer, of 409 Blaine street, suffered painful burns about the face and arms Sunday morning at 11 o'clock when the gas stove, which she was tending, exploded. A physician was summoned at once and the injuries attended. This morning her condition was fair, and it is believed the burns are not of such a serious nature as they were first thought to be.

Mrs. Shaffer was removing a roast from the stove at the time of the accident. She opened the door and flames shot out from the top burners, burning her on the chest, arms and head. Her hair was also badly burned.

It is believed that gas was escaping at the time, causing it to explode when Mrs. Shaffer opened the door.

is no program being held locally. It was just such a day as this that the Armistice was signed one of Pa Newc's boys who was over there, remained.

A visit to the plant of the Johnson Bronze Co. since the recent improvements have been completed is a revelation. The local concern has a plant of huge proportions, representing an investment of around a million and a half dollars.

Apparently the bankers are the only local citizens who are observing Armistice Day as a class. Within a few years the day will no doubt be universally observed as a holiday just as Memorial Day has been.

Council directed that a water line and hydrants be placed in Englewood avenue during the past summer as a master of fire protection for the district. The new hydrant was used by the firemen to extinguish the blaze on Fairfield avenue. The new water line was completed about two months ago.

Clerks, business men, lawyers, street car operators, doctors—in fact everybody everywhere—were recalling events that followed the proclaiming of the Armistice 11 years ago. Practically everyplace Pa Newc went someone mentioned some temporarily forgotten incident.

One man spoke of the premature celebration that occurred here, costing several lives. A display of fireworks on the diamond exploded ahead of time and proved fatal to a number of persons. Then another spent his time describing the influenza epidemic. Most ex-servicemen were quiet today for they alone, more than any other, know what it meant.

SENATORS' ARMISTICE DAY REFLECTIONS SEE PROGRESS OF WORLD

of modern movements, regardless of their names, is that the liberal principles of government are coming more and more into control of government and into the direction of public policies. I think unquestionably in all the progressively-minded countries of the world, there will be progress toward liberalism in governmental policies and in the destinies of the people."

Senator John J. Blaine (R) of Wisconsin: "Out of the war has come a realization on the part of people everywhere that the primary cause of war is economic and these developments point to the destruction of the economic forces which provoke and promote war. The people of the civilized world are getting an opportunity to express themselves against war. It is this sentiment which will replace peace treaties and pacts to outlaw war. It is a significant step forward by mankind, and eleven years hence, we shall have made real progress toward world peace—and human liberty, education and comfort."

Great Strides

Senator Charles L. McNary (R) of Oregon: "Civilization has made great strides forward since the war, economically and socially, as well as politically. Human liberty has spread around the world; the people are becoming enlightened; comfort has been carried into homes where it was never known before. I look upon these developments as real progress. I see no reason why the progress should not continue in the years to come."

There was a single dissenting voice.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana: "I don't feel the real liberal element is as militant in the United States today as it has been sometimes in the past. I wish I might think so, but I don't. I can see no decided growth or development of liberalism in the general sum of public sentiment. As for conditions in Europe, I can see no relation between the movements in England, Russia and France—and say, those in Poland, Hungary and Italy."

scene of the blaze, one from Englewood avenue and Carlisle street and the other from Fairfield avenue. The fire was soon knocked down and the reducer line from the Pirsch truck was used to finally extinguish the blaze.

Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn made an investigation after the fire had been extinguished and believes that the blaze was caused by a defect in the chimney at the floor of the attic, for the most part. Some damage was caused to the second floor where the fire dropped down between the partitions.

The fire had gained considerable headway when discovered, and had the blaze originated in the lower portion of the house, the entire building would undoubtedly have been destroyed. Residents of the neighborhood carried out most of the furniture.

Dr. Knox and his wife had left to attend church about 10:30, and at the time they left, there was apparently no sign of fire.

sengers were suffering from cuts and contusion. Doctors who were hurried to the scene in ambulances when news of the wreck was first received had not reported any others seriously injured.

Relieved of Valuables
A shot or two was fired in the air when the train came to a sudden halt and then the desperadoes lined up the shaken passengers and relieved them of their valuables. Several of the band boarded the upright coaches and methodically robbed their occupants.

The bandit crew is believed to have removed a section of rail, causing the locomotive and first coaches to leap wildly from the track.

Their looting finished, the bandits mounted horses and fled into the hills. A large posse of deputy sheriffs and volunteers started in pursuit in automobiles, but the wild terrain handicapped them and they were forced to send for horses with which to take up the chase.

Victims disagreed as to the number in the band.

The first one to turn a spadeful of earth was Senator George T. Weintraub, president of the board of trustees and chairman of the building committee. Then came Norman E. This group constituted the heads of the official organizations of the church.

Rev. Maxwell then asked Rev. J. L. Peck, former pastor of Grace M. E. of this city, to turn a spadeful, and also Mrs. J. L. Stratton, widow of a former pastor. The doxology and benediction by Rev. David D. Sleppy, pastor of Mahoning M. E., closed the services.

Mrs. W. J. Dalton.

Word of the death of Mrs. W. J. Dalton of Middletown, Pa., was received Saturday in this city by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griner of Albert street.

Mrs. Dalton had been a resident of New Castle for a number of years, during which time her husband held a responsible position with the Standard Steel Car works. She is survived by her father, her husband, two daughters, Dorothy and Florence; two sons, John and Earl, and three grandchildren, all of Middletown, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10 a. m. from the family home.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Ella Chambers Widie.

Judge James E. Chambers, 408 Hillcrest avenue, was in receipt of a message Saturday telling him of the death of his cousin, Mrs. Ella Chambers Widie, who died at the home of her daughter in Philadelphia early Saturday morning.

Mrs. Widie was born and raised at East Brook and was the last surviving child of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Chambers of East Brook. Her husband, Charles Widie, preceded her in death a number of years ago.

Interment will be made today in Harrisburg, Pa., where she had resided prior to going to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Filomena Sera.

Mrs. Filomena Sera aged 49, wife of Domenic Sera, Cascade street, died very suddenly Saturday evening about 11 o'clock at her home after illness of about half an hour, believed to be due to heart trouble. She attended the Italian M. E. church. She leaves her husband and five children, Fr. Rosie, Velora, Susi and Edie.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence on Cascade street. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Farm Bloc' Will Sponsor Tariffs for Agriculture are developing the "farm bloc" plan, already have agreed upon more than 50 amendments. Senator Thomas (R) of Idaho is sponsoring others on vegetable oils and fats.

"The rates to be proposed will be virtually those demanded by the American farm bureau and national grange, decided upon by them after long study, and carefully considered by us," said Senator Frazier.

Ask Wheat Increase.

"We probably will ask that the tariff on wheat be increased from 42 to 64 cents a bushel. This is not proposed on the theory that the tariff itself will benefit the farmer, but it would increase the amount of the debenture."

"A tariff of five or six cents a pound upon green hides will be suggested. It has been calculated by the tariff commission that a 5-cent tariff would increase the cost of a pair of shoes not over 31 cents. The record of profits of the big shoe companies indicates a compensatory duty upon boots and shoes would not be called for."

"We will ask an increase on flax to 64 cents a bushel, and increases upon many other agricultural products."

Vigorous Fight Predicted.

A vigorous fight by the "old guard" is predicted, although leaders have acknowledged the power of the coalition to write any kind of a tariff bill is chosen.

Senators Moses (R) of New Hampshire expressed the opposition of the regulars when he charged in Chicago that the coalition is trying to place high duties on things which manufacturing communities must eat and live duties upon things which they sell in order to get things to eat.

ARMISTICE DAY

WE CELEBRATE today the anniversary of the ending of the most destructive war of history.

Eleven years have passed since the final gun was fired in the murderous conflict that cost millions of lives, billions of dollars and that brought untold misery.

The original Armistice Day was marked by wild jubilation.

People were so happy that the terrible war had ended that they rarely shouted aloud. The streets were thronged with men and women with tears of joy streaming down their faces.

They had been delivered from the nightmare of war, with its daily casualty lists, its constant threat of death and destruction to loved ones.

Eleven years ago the world knew that war was vicious, destructive and horrible.

The boys under arms knew it better than any others.

They fought because they wanted to end war forever.

Armistice Day should be devoted to the ideals they bled and died for.

This means that every Armistic Day should be a day devoted to peace. Peace based upon democracy...Upon equality of rights....Upon liberty and justice for all.

That is the way to pay reverent tribute to those who gave their lives for us in Europe.

EVERYONE WANTS A SLICE

Some time ago it was whispered abroad that the next congress would present the nation with a gift in the form of another income tax cut. It was a cue for every taxed group or class to implore the administration for first consideration when the cuts are passed around.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs is especially concerned with the tax on single persons with incomes in the $1500-$5000 range. One suspects single women dominate the federation and its member clubs.

Secretary Mellon is reported to have listened attentively and sympathetically, and held his tongue. A born diplomat!

Income-tax history carefully studied would reveal to the business and professional ladies a trend that contains the promise they failed to secure from the secretary of the treasury. This trend is in the direction of increasing the tax burden of unearned incomes to the relief of earned incomes. Salaries of less than $5000 a year certainly come within the latter classification.

If further tax cuts are forthcoming, these brackets should be among the first to benefit, but the present tax and minimum exemption of $1500 on unmarried persons without dependents are not burdensome.

SAVING AND SPENDING

In a little paragraph in Grove Patterson's column in The News a few nights since, was carried an impressive comment on the matter of saving and spending. In case you failed to see it, we are repeating it. If you did see it, you can with profit read it again. Here it is:

A great deal is written about thrift and the habit of saving.

Much that is not written is true and much that is true is not understood.

There is too much saving of the wrong kind—too little inclination to spend largely to gain large results.

There are so many people who practice thrift in the wrong way.

They save pennies and dimes and then lose all in impulsive, thoughtless investment.

Others let pennies, dimes and dollars slip away carelessly, but have no inclination to live largely for good purposes.

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS

Discussion of the problem of freedom of the seas has completely disappeared from the naval reduction debate. Just a short time ago some of the more prominent members of congress—for example, Senator Borah and former Senator Reed, of Missouri—were insistent that the matter of freedom of the seas should be settled before the United States committed itself to any naval program whatsoever. But of late nobody seems to be in the least interested in the freedom of the seas.

The explanation for this lack of interest is, however, not far to seek. As long as Great Britain maintained a two-power navy, with which our one-power navy could hardly hope to contend, America was intensely interested in freedom of the seas. But today Britain is, or seems to be, committed to the principle of parity. Theoretically, the United States navy could fight to a draw with the British navy. Theoretically, then, nobody can deprive us of freedom of the seas.

So why discuss it? No man chases a street car after he has caught it. Having established, at least in theory, freedom of the seas for ourselves, we naturally withdraw from the debate, leaving it to nations with smaller fleets to carry on the discussion.

WALL STREET

A brief word to remember is that investment is for everybody who can save a few dollars. Buying stocks on margin is exclusively for those who can afford to lose.

AND NOW THE HUNTER

Men, temporarily tired of their routine lives, lose themselves in the forest on hunting trips. That's one thing women have gone in for very little. While men have not had a monopoly on hunting, they have engaged in it more exclusively than in most pursuits. But a Montana man, as exception, took his wife with him. He left her with the Ford, to take care of the camp. While he was in the woods she sat in the car and shot a 250-pound deer. There is no record that the man brought back anything. And there you are.

Ceremony at Washington

Washington, Nov. 11—Simple ceremonies today marked the capital's observance of Armistice Day. Arlington National cemetery, across the Potomac, and Mt. St. Albans were the scenes where thousands gathered to pay homage to those who paid war's supreme sacrifice.

First to visit Arlington were President and Mrs. Hoover, with Secretary of War Good and Secretary of the Navy Adams. Flanked by the two members of his cabinet, the chief executive stepped before the tomb of the unknown soldier and there laid a wreath, symbolic of the country's reverence for its departed heroes.

Following the President, Mrs. Hoover stood before the white tomb a moment later and deposited a second wreath in behalf of the mothers, wives and sisters who lost loved ones in the great conflict.

As noon a second service was held at the tomb, with the Very Rev. John J. Burke, general secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conferences, as speaker. Simplicity also marked this ceremony, held annually by "the seven".

"The seven" is a committee of representatives of peace-time organizations who served in unheroic capacities during the World War. The Y. M. C. A., Jewish welfare board, Salvation Army, National Catholic Welfare Conference and the Knights of Columbus, Y. W. C. A., War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and the Boy Scouts of America.

At Mt. St. Albans, site of the Episcopal Washington cathedral, across the Potomac, and Mt. St. Albans were the scenes where thousands gathered to pay homage to those who paid war's supreme sacrifice.

NEW YORK Nov. 11.—Charlie Somerville, the tale weaver, voices the belief that if the proper way of spelling "tho" is "though," and the correct way of spelling "bo" is "beau," the logical way of spelling potato is poughnigtheat.

His old admirers stand by and gaze pityingly as the punch drunk victim raves on.

LET GEORGE DO IT!

"You know," says George Cohan, "if life ran for me the way I'd like it, you'd find me sitting at a piano all day banging out songs and having a mighty good time. But I can't do that because Has cast me as the Great Understudy."

"In my present show, 'Gambling,' I wanted Clark Gable to do the lead. Dave Briscoe took him away from me and so I had to step in and do it. It's always the same way. A few seasons ago we were in a thing called 'The Song and Dance Man' and had Lynn Overman selected for the lead. Lynn decided at the last minute that it wasn't his role and once more I had to step in. In 'The Merry Malone' Arthur DaCosta was cast for Old Man Malone and Artie died before the show reached New York. And there you are. Let George do it—and somehow or other, George always does."

MAKING PHILOSOPHY TO ORDER

A bank on West 57th street—New York's Rue de la Pay and Pay and Pay—has converted its show windows into an apary. At day long crowds five deep gather to watch the bees at work. A sign in the window reads: "Take lesson in thrift from the honey bees. They never store their savings in a risky place."

Obviously, if that were true, there wouldn't be any honey on the market. But why be captious?

A RAVING "EX"

Making the rounds of the town is an ex-pug who years ago was the idol of his set. His badly scarred face and beautifully wrought cauliflower ears attest many a well deserved fray. To the lads of the squared circle he is known as "Punch-Drunk." Every little while the battered one conceives the notion that he's signed up for another bout.

"I'm in great shape," he tells anyone he can lure to listen. "Get the boys to sink their dough heavy on me. I'm goin' to win by a K.O."

Rheumatism Pains Stop in 7 to 10 Minutes

Your MUSCLETONE has given me more relief from rheumatism and sore muscles than any other remedy I had ever used. The first application relieved me a lot of good. The pain has left me completely and I have not been troubled since. You can remedy just about anything in your home. I can't be without a bottle in my home. MUSCLETONE is wonderful, and I have the highest praise for it.

JOHN STRICK

When a man has rheumatism so badly that it is downright agony to even move and seems suddenly to regain complete freedom from pain the chances are that he has learned the secret of MUSCLETONE.

Almost a million people now—by word of mouth recommendation—seem to have found complete relief through this new discovery of treatment by inunction. So far as the painful part of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia, lameness of muscle, bones and joints is concerned may forget it with the first application. Relief actually comes in 7 to 10 minutes. The photographs above were taken only 30 minutes apart. Chronic cases and those unusually severe will of course require continued treatment for a while but isn't it wonderful that the relief you seek is now so easily obtained?

Belated Report Of Attack Made
On Mussolini

Newspaper Dispatch Says Premier Fired Upon On October 10

(International News Service) LONDON, Nov. 11.—An alleged attempt to assassinate Premier Mussolini on October 10 was revealed today in a dispatch to the London Daily Chronicle from its correspondent at Nice.

The fact that a new attempt was made on the life of the Italian dictator is said to be confirmed from Rome, Turin and Milan.

The Rome report declares the attempt took place while the premier was motoring to Ostia from Rome. He was riding in the last of a procession of three automobiles. Three rifle shots were fired, one of the bullets striking the engine of the second car and another narrowly missing the wife of Signor Guinta, member of the cabinet.

200 Arrested

A total of 200 persons were arrested in the subsequent investigation, this report declares.

The Turin report confirms the above story in its major details, but adds a number of the police escort was seriously wounded.

According to the Milan version, however, the attempt occurred while the premier was at Ostia, investigating archeological excavations recently made there.

Premier Mussolini has escaped so many attempts upon him that he has often been said to bear a "charmed life". He still bears the scar of a bullet which pierced his nostril.

No celebration is being held locally but next year the Tri-County celebration will be held in this city.

LOCAL LADY SAYS RELIEF IT GAVE WAS WONDERFUL

Tells How Ten Herbs, Famous New Medicine, Ended Daughter's Ills.

The wonderful relief that Ten Herbs gives the ailing human system often is almost unbelievable. But such results cannot be reasonably doubted when reputable men and women of this day and vicinity vouch for them.

MRS. LEONARD LECOMTE

The amazing power of this famous new natural compound is derived from its ten wonderful health-restoring products of Nature, which thoroughly cleanse and tone up the entire system, and at the same time go to the source of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. No wonder there is such a great demand for Ten Herbs at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington Street, this city, where this highly successful preparation is being introduced.

"I am well pleased with the way Ten Herbs benefitted me," was the recent statement of Mrs. Leonard Lecomte, 8 North Greenwood Street, New Castle. "Your medicine gave my daughter, Mrs. Ida Schenker, wonderful relief. She suffered terribly from giddiness—a blackness would come over her eyes, causing her to stagger. She also had stomach trouble. Even light food filled her with gas and gave her a great deal of distress. Headaches came on her, and her nerves were in bad condition. She was subject to biliousness, and had sallow complexion. She did not rest well at night and finally got in a run-down condition.

"Friends, who had been greatly benefited by Ten Herbs, induced her to try your medicine. It helped her in various ways, giving her remarkable relief from vertigo and the blackness that used to come over her eyes. Her appetite improved, and stomach trouble was relieved. She gained relief from gas and retching. Her nerves became much stronger, and before long there was great improvement in her general health. I do not hesitate to endorse Ten Herbs to the public."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and is sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Banker Ends Life

CHARGE WOMAN WITH KILLING OF

told them the children were theirs, said Shaw.

Another blackmail victim, a St. Louis man, also has communicated with the police, Shaw said.

In her confession, Miss Parks reveals a gypsy life. She said she was 32 and the daughter of an itinerant glassblower. She was born in Mays Landing, N. J., but lived at various times at Vineland, N. J., Kane, Pa., Wilkinson, Indiana; Grafton, W. Va.; Sistersville, W. Va.; West Union, W. Va.; and Stockton, Cal.

Among many travelling jobs she held were those of piano player and solosley. She was a cousin to Mary Parks, late wife of the father of the dead children.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Gladys Parks Baker, South Jersey's "Stone-Woman," crumpled today under 24 hours of merciless police grilling and half-way admitted the slaying of one of the two little Roger children, Dorothy and Timothy, for whose murders she was sought through half a dozen states. The battered skeletons of the two little tots were found in South Jersey wastelands.

AMONG many travelling jobs she held were those of piano player and solosley. She was a cousin to Mary Parks, late wife of the father of the dead children.

Her stone-like composure broken by the continuous grilling the woman admitted slaying the five-year old girl with a blow of her hand and hiding her body near National Park, N. J.

The body of the child's 20-months old brother was hidden in a thicket near Absecon she confessed. He died a natural death, she insisted.

Started at the sordid details of the crime Camden authorities broke all precedents and convened a Sunday court holding her without bail for the grand jury. The fear stricken common-law husband of the 35-year-old blonde, apparently overwhelmed at her confession, also was held without bail as a material witness. He died a natural death, she insisted.

The fear stricken common-law husband of the 35-year-old blonde, apparently overwhelmed at her confession, also was held without bail as a material witness. He died a natural death, she insisted.

Surrenders Self

Surrendering in Newark, N. J., early Sunday explaining she was wanted in Camden and came into the police headquarters to "straighten" out the matter, Mrs. Baker was grilled and rushed to Camden where she was grilled and grilled again as police endeavored to force a confession from her. Through all the hours of the ordeal she maintained her rock-like composure asserting the children died natural deaths. It was during repeated accounts of the death of the little girl that she half way admitted the child died at her hand last night. The boy fell down the cellar steps of the home where she was living in Camden and died from the effects of the fall she said. He died August 22. The girl had died on August 7. She hid the girl's body under some bushes after neighbors began to question her regarding the peculiar odor about the building, she told the police. The boy's body was taken to Absecon because she feared to report his death after the little girl's disappearance being afraid of police questioning.

Breaks Down at Grave.

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 11.—Gladys May Parks, alleged baby killer, today broke down beside the grave which she had dug with her own hands for two-year-old Timothy Rogers at Absecon, N. J.

Miss Parks, former piano player and model, is charged with the murder of Timothy and his sister Dorothy, five years old, to whose care both children had been entrusted.

She was taken to a clump of bushes near a vacant lot.

"Is this where you buried the body?" Prosecutor Clifford Baldwin asked.

"Yes," she replied, breaking into sobs.

"Tell us just how you did it."

"Oh, I don't remember," cried Miss Parks and went into hysterics.

Between sobs she told in bits, how she dug a shallow hole and placed the child's nude body in it.

"I covered it with leaves," she said.

A large crowd followed the prisoner to the death spot.

Prosecutor Baldwin said he had been a board of aldermen examine Miss Parks to determine her sanity.

Believed Insane.

WOODBURY, N. J., Nov. 11.—Allan Rogers, local insurance man and father of the two little children believed to have been slain by Gladys May Parks Baker, told reporters today he believes she is insane.

"I am a Christian and I must not believe malice," he said. "I believe the woman was insane, but the law must take its course. She would never have had the children but I thought she was a very religious woman and I trusted her."

Rogers will make an effort today to secure possession of the remains of his children. He wishes to bury them beside their mother who died a year ago, leaving him with four other small children.

GIRL SCOUTS

Training Class.

At 7 o'clock this evening the training class in troop management will meet in the Girl Scout office in the Y. W. C. A. building.

Play Presented.

Friday night troop 7 presented a play in the home of Miss Florence Davis on Sheridan avenue, member of the troop. The play was written by Miss Davis and was entitled "The Tea Party."

The purpose of the play was to present the report of the girls sent to the Pinegrove camp in June 1929. The camp is the regional Girl Scout training camp on the site of the Harrisburg camp a beautiful pine forest.

Members of the caste were Mrs. Betty Glass, Mrs. Warren Craven, played by Miss Shirley Stetson, Mrs. Cecil Hamilton, played by Miss Katherine Palmer and Mrs. Walter Oglethorpe, played by Miss Florence Davis. The time of the play was set as 1925.

Three rules for preparing dried fruit are: Wash it thoroughly in warm water. Cook it slowly and add the sugar at the end of the cooking period.

Mr. Wilson also made an effort to turn to the left but before he could get out of the way of McAllen's car, it rolled back down the left hand bank and into the right side of the Wilson car. The Wilson car was somewhat damaged, while the top of the McAllen car was wrecked.

It was in this instance that Maxine McAllen, the little victim of the accident, sustained the fracture at the right side of the head and injuries of the neck, which resulted in her death. Mr. McAllen sustained a bruised right arm, while Lawrence, Audrey and Violet, the other members of the family escaped with slight bruises.

Maxine Eleanor McAllen, the victim of the accident, was born in this city in February 1921, the daughter of Loyal B. and Myrtle Stewart McAllen and would have been nine years of age on her next birthday. She was a member of the Nazarene church of this city.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal B. McAllen, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John McAllen and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Stewart, all of this city, one brother, Lawrence, and two sisters, Violet and Audrey. Funeral services of Maxine McAllen will be held Wednesday, Nov. 13, at the Church of the Nazarene, 31 West Falls street, in charge of Rev. C. L. Davis. The body will be moved this evening to the home of Frank Dewberry, 318 Sumner avenue. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

Additions At Johnson Bronze Plant Finished

New Sand Conditioning Plant,
Moulding Room, And Power Plant Ready
For Use

PLANT NOW MOST MODERN IN WORLD

Additions to the plant of the Johnson Bronze Company, which have been in the course of construction for the past six months are now complete and ready for use.

The most recent units added to the plant are a new moulding room, sand conditioning plant, and power house, the cleaning room, floor moulding room, and tool room, unit having been completed last summer and has been occupied now for several months.

With the completion of the new improvements, the local plant is now the most modern and complete plant for the manufacture of bronze bushings and allied products in the United States and is also the largest plant of its kind in the world.

The new improvements include two sand conditioning units in the moulding room, each of which will serve ten moulding machines. The equipment which will serve these machines has been designed from plans and specifications prepared by the engineering department of the Johnson Bronze Co. after a long study and were built to suit their own particular requirements. They will provide greatly increased production and afford additional economy in operation.

The new units are very rugged in construction and were built especially for the local plant by the Chain Belt Co. The layout utilizes every available inch of space.

After the mould has been completed at the machine by the operator, it is placed on a gravity conveyor, two lines of which have been placed at the rear of each machine. After these two lines have been filled with moulds, they are poured from a ladle which comes from the melting room adjoining on an overhead mono-rail conveyor.

After the moulds have cooled sufficiently, they are pushed off the conveyor onto a shakeout grating, the sand falling into a pit beneath on a steel apron conveyor. The castings are picked up from the grating and placed in a large steel "tote-boxes" and carried away by an electric truck to the cleaning and grinding-room.

The sand after it falls through the grating then moves forward on the conveyor belt to the front of the moulding room, where it is discharged into a vertical bucket elevator and carried to the top of the building, approximately sixty feet above the floor, where it is discharged onto a revolving screen, which separates the foreign matter from the sand. The coarse particles are discharged onto a tailing chute and drop into a steel container on the floor below, where they are carried away as they become filled.

The sand then falls into cylindrical storage bins which have a capacity of thirty tons, and there remains for several hours where it is conditioned. From these bins the sand is gradually discharged by a large cylindrical plate feeder into a double-shaft "pug" or mixing mill, where it is tempered by adding a small amount of water and is then discharged into a "squirrel-cage" type of sand rivivifier, which fluffs the sand. Then it is conveyed by a scraper conveyor to the feeding hoppers on the second floor level, immediately over each moulding machine.

From this point, the moulder gets his sand and the process is repeated. All surplus sand is carried to an overflow box which discharges onto the continuous conveyor system, and is carried through the process again.

The various units of the system are completely electrified, eight large motors serving each unit. These are electrically interlocked so that the failure of any motor in the group immediately shuts off the power of the remaining seven. When this happens an electric signal flashes onto the switchboard in front of the operator, who knows at just what point the trouble comes from.

Safety is another matter which has been looked after in the construction. All drives are through oil immersed feed reducers of the most approved type.

Steel walk ways provided with toe boards and hand rails connect all parts of the system, making them readily accessible. The operator can go from one part to another with absolute safety to himself.

The building with its high penthouse front, although odd-shaped to the untrained eye, has been built to suit the needs of the machinery that it houses. It is fireproof throughout and it, and the adjoining units of the plant are heated by large blower unit heaters, which evenly distribute the heat over the area served.

Another portion of the building houses an extension to the core room, in which many modern facilities are being placed.

The new boiler room recently completed, houses two huge 210 horsepower boilers, used entirely for heating purposes. They are stoker equipped with underfeed stokers, manufactured by the Riley Stoker Co., and practically eliminate all smoke, but a slight haze being visible above the smoke stack at any time.

The completion of the new units, puts the finishing touches to a great program of expansion which was started six months ago by the Johnson Bronze Co., designed to take care of their ever-expanding business, which has placed them far in front in their particular field.

The newly completed units will be placed in operation this week.

They Called Her Scrawny But Not For Long

Is your face drawn and pinched? Your skin flabby? Are your cheeks sunken with great hollows under the eyes? Does your figure show unbecoming angles instead of the softly rounded slimness of youth?

All these conditions rob you of attractiveness and make you look old. But worst of all, these may actually be the symptoms of simple anaemia—that dread ailment so often suffered by women.

There's nothing so good as McCoy's Tablets to put on firm flesh, round out face and figure and build up rich, red blood.

So if you need a few pounds of flesh to round out the hollows, if you want to get back oldtime energy and health, get a box of McCoy's Tablets today. Just a short treatment will make you look and feel like a new person.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

Clean-Up Drive For Chest Opens

Outside Organizations Will Assist Community Chest Agencies In Campaign

Plans will be gotten under way for a cleanup drive to put the Community Chest fund over the top at a meeting to be held this evening at 7:30 in the Y. M. C. A.

Approximately $8,000 is now needed to reach the allotted goal of $69,500, and with some new blood injected into the campaign, it is hoped that the amount needed will soon be secured.

Various local organizations have been asked to assist the Community Chest agencies in this final cleanup campaign, and assurances have been received from many that they will assist. The New Castle Booster Club and the Trades Assembly in addition to several other organizations have promised their assistance.

The master list of the Community Chest, containing the names of all those who have contributed in previous years, will be gone over very thoroughly at tonight's meeting, and a new set of prospect cards will be made out for the new solicitors.

Geneva Head To Address P. T. A.

Dr. McLeod M. Pearce Will Speak At County Session On Thursday

Dr. McLeod M. Pearce, president of Geneva College will make the principal address at the afternoon session of the annual meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Lawrence county, to occur on Thursday, November 14 at the George Washington junior high school.

An afternoon session will be held as well as a dinner and program in the evening. Definite arrangements for the affair are being completed today.

Bids Received For Lock Gates

Immediate Improvement For Two Rivers Is Urged By Congressman Strong

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—Bids to furnish and deliver lock gate operating machinery for lock No. 7, Allegheny river, will be opened December 2 in the offices of the federal engineers here and bids for the construction of lock gate for lock No. 8 will be asked for next month. Delivery is expected soon on two leaves of the gate for No. 2, Allegheny river, following their completion by the Independent Bridge company.

Approximately 100,000 cubic yards of material were used in completing the paving of 900 feet of the river bank below the abutment of Deadman's Island dam, finished recently under the direction of Captain R. C. McCullough, associate superintendent in charge of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers.

According to Congressman N. L. Strong, favorable action by congress is contemplated for the immediate improvement of the Kiskiminetas and Conemaugh rivers. The congressman said that in his opinion no other unimproved river in the United States the length of these streams has the potential tonnage commanded by them.

It is anticipated that the physical condition of the Kiskiminetas and Conemaugh will require the use of oil-burning rather than steam propelled tugs.

INSTALLING NEW SCALES
Installation of new freight scales at the local freight house of the P. & L. E. railroad will probably be completed within the next few days, it is announced.

The new weighing apparatus is considerably large and is of the new improved type, twice as long and nearly double the old scale in width.

Freight Agents In Meeting Today

Local Association Holding Regu- lar Monthly Session This Afternoon

Members of Freight Agents' association of New Castle will meet in the office of Harry Alexander, freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for their regular November meeting.

Representatives will attend from the B. R. & P., the Baltimore & Ohio, the Pennsylvania, Erie & Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads.

W. A. Stone, P. & L. E. freight agent, is president of the organization.

Doe Is Killed.

The doe killed Thursday night on the Wilmington road outside of Mercer by the car of Rev. Mabel Hicks, Free Methodist minister, was presented today to the Childrens Orphanage Home here by Game Warden Frank Fair and County Treasurer C. R. McQuiston. The animal weighs 150 pounds. It is the third that the children have been given within a two year period.

7,000 Are Hunters.

To date 7,000 hunting licenses have been issued in Mercer county for 1929. The number is 700 in advance of the 1928 total, the records show. This increase is due to the change in game laws on deer season which reduced the 1928 total, it is said, due to the fact that hunters bought in counties with an open deer season.

FIVE SEEK OFFICE.

To date only five candidates are reported to have taken out papers for the civil service test for the Mercer postmastership which closes on November 12th.

It is possible that an additional number have secured their papers through the bureau at Washington to avoid local knowledge of their application.

SUIT OVER BILL.

The Fort Pitt Casket Company of Pittsburgh are suing T. J. Reinsel of Farrell, today for $332.25 for an alleged unpaid bill. The bill sets forth that the amount is due of caskets bought between June and October of 1928.

VETERAN CLAIM PAID.

The record claim paid in the 28th Pennsylvania congressional district of five counties of whom Hon. T. C. Cochran of Mercer, is representative is that paid to the family of H. Buchanan, of Warren county.

The amount is $9,284.50. It was paid on an insurance policy of which he had allowed to lapse. The case is one of the very few in government history. It was only obtained by the congressman after taking the matter up with the Counselor General and obtaining a special opinion on the case.

Buchanan was a veteran who died after leaving the service and in the interim allowing his policy to lapse. There are special extenuating circumstances which made it possible to take the matter up with the department.

In discharging her, Judge Arthur Stone ruled she had not concealed the property but merely that part of the keyboard upon which she sat.

Hoover Heights Revival Closes

Meetings Brought To Close By Overflow Attendance At Last Services

Crowds gathered at the Hoover Heights Tabernacle all day yesterday for the closing services of the revival meetings.

A fitting climax came in the service last evening when the altar was filled across the width of the church, with people seeking God's forgiveness with repentance. Thus was brought to a close the greatest revival that has been held here in recent years.

The church was again filled with many extra seats for the evening service. Mrs. Slack told how she obeyed God's word for baptism, and how she was healed as she was baptised.

Rev. M. J. Scripture, the pastor of the church, then brought the closing sermon on "One Way of Escape."

His text was Hebrews 2:3. "How shall we escape, if we neglect so great Salvation?" In response to the appeal nearly a score came forward for spiritual help.

At the morning service Lester Case brought a searching but encouraging message on "The Love of God." His text was I Cor. 13:13. "And now abideth faith, hope, love; these three; but the greatest of these is love."

In the afternoon before a packed auditorium, Mr. Slack told more of his life story, of the religious formality, yet great sin that held him and how, when Christ came in his life.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

A lovely woman, I know she's lovely because she sent her picture to show me she is not "an old crow," writes me a very intelligent letter, discussing my indictment of breach of promise suits. I'm all wrong, she says, adding: "If you are as young as your picture you will live and learn." She thinks I am "inexperienced and unsophisticated."

Lady, I went to college when Babes in Toyland was new. That's how young I am. I reported for a newspaper for 20 years and I've talked to a hundred women who have sued for breach of promise. I've had 15 years in the Domestic, Juvenile and Divorce courts, so I'm not entirely unfamiliar with these subjects. As for my personal experiences—what nice weather we are having!

The lady writes that while all laws are occasionally abused, women are not only justified, but duty bound to bring suits because: "Men are fickle, selfish, unrestrained and unscrupulous in love affairs. The cruel ending of a love affair is bound to play heavily with a girl's plans and her interrupted career. Then often a girl has rejected other desirable suitors. A girl's time for mating and a career are shorter than a man's, therefore more precious. Women are more loving and emotional and cruelty and neglect can seriously damage their health."

She talks about "ambiguous proposals" which a man makes by telling a woman he can't think of a future without her. She calls a man a cad who walks but on such a proposal—goes to prison or a fine.

She knows I'm not inexperienced, will she let me suggest that what is really needed is a little more care on the part of girls who can't detect a bona-fide proposal. If a man tells a woman by moonlight with music, that he loves her, she should wait until he tells her moonlight without music, then at noon in the glare of the midday sun, then early in the morning by phone, and then when she has heard it every hour, and he has written, phoned and broadcast it, she can believe that possibly he means it. If he says "Susan, I want you to marry me" she should set a date a year away. If he says "That's too long, how about this afternoon?" she can be perfectly sure.

THE WEEPING MUSE

I S Modern Industrialism about to deal the Art of Music the saddest blow of its history?

To blame Machinery as an Instrument of Decadence may seem startling, but it is true that Machinery in the form of Canned Music is elbowing Real Music out of motion picture theatres, thus denying to the masses the cultural influence of a Fine Arts.

Surely, if machine-made music displaces the artist in thousands of instances, the incentive for any individual to improve his talents is necessarily in all art—is minimized and music can no longer hold the cultural value that it has possessed. Any art is dependent for its progress upon the number of its enthusiastic executives.

Do you, Mr. Reader, find the pleasure in Mechanical Music that you do in Real Music?

If you believe that Real Music should be saved to the masses who attend Motion Picture Theatres make your opinion known to the manager of your favorite theatre. Very likely he will appreciate your frankness for he wants to please his patrons.

Firemen Cites ed For Added Fire Protection

States North Hill Section
Does Not Have Adequate Protection Against Fire

NEW APPARATUS IS NEEDED BY CITY

Need for some new fire fighting equipment was emphasized by Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn this morning, following the circumstances encountered at the blaze Sunday morning, which seriously damaged the home of Dr. G. Knox on Fairfield avenue.

Both the Knox truck at Central station and the Second ward truck, should be replaced at once, Chief Lynn states, as both are almost obsolete, according to present day conditions.

The Knox truck which is 18 years old, is used now only for emergencies, because it is too slow; while the Second ward truck is also out of date as far as fire fighting equipment goes, he says.

Some criticism was directed at the firemen following the blaze Sunday morning, which the chief states is undeserved, and should be blamed on the apparatus which is provided for fire protection instead.

The value of a high speed truck was forcibly demonstrated, the chief states, in the fact that the new Pirsch truck from Central station on South Jefferson street, arrived at the Knox home on Fairfield avenue approximately the same time as the truck from the Park avenue station, although the Central station is just a mile further away from the scene of yesterday's fire.

This section of the North Hill is exactly one and seven tenths miles away from the Park avenue station, the chief says.

In telephoning a fire in, precious minutes are wasted in getting the location of the fire accurately determined, and it takes a few seconds to start the truck and get away. It would take all of ten minutes for the Park avenue truck to get to a fire in the outlying district of Highland avenue, because it is not a high speed engine, he says.

Chief Lynn stated this morning that he is recommending to council that they set aside $25,000 for new apparatus when the budget is made up for next year.

This would purchase a new fire engine to replace the Knox truck, and provide a new modern truck for the North hill section which is badly in need of such apparatus.

When the second alarm was sounded yesterday morning for the North Hill fire, the Sixth ward truck from Smithfield street passed the old Knox engine on the Jefferson street hill and was at the scene of the blaze several minutes before the old engine arrived.

No business firm would keep a commercial truck in use for 18 years, yet the Knox fire truck has been in use that long. The firm which manufactured the piece of apparatus has gone out of business and if anything goes wrong with the machine, it is necessary to have replacement parts made for it.

Chief Lynn states that additional water pressure is also needed in the outlying North Hill section, the pressure Sunday morning being so low that it could be turned off by kinking the hose and stepping on it with one's foot, which was actually done when the firemen changed nozzles on one of the lines of hose.

Court Refuses To Grant New Trial

Verdict Against Mac M. Sweetland On Prosecution Of Gwendolyn Dindinger Stands

Judge R. L. Hildebrand refused a new trial this morning in the case of Mac M. Sweetland, who was convicted of adultery in connection with a suit brought by Gwendolyn Dindinger. Sweetland, who lives on a farm near the Piedmont farm on the New Castle-Beaver road, is a married man with four children.

He employed Gwendolyn Dindinger as housekeeper. On the same afternoon after her arrival Mrs. Sweetland went to visit her parents in Pittsburg, taking the children with her. Miss Dindinger, in the trial of the case, told of her relations with Sweetland while his wife was away and also after her return. Miss Dindinger was at the Sweetland home for about five months.

Find Liquor After Diligent Search

When Lieutenant of Police Hillers, Officers Moore, Thomas, Thompson and Constable Leslie visited the place of Mrs. Josephine Plonka, 101 West Terrace avenue, Sunday night, they hunted and hunted for the alleged source of liquor said to be in that place, according to reports made to the police department.

They finally located a buried barrel of liquor from which the liquor was syphoned by means of a rubber hose, and which was also filled from another point by means of a larger opening connected up with the pantry. Mrs. Plonka was taken today before an alderman where she was charged with violation of the Snyder Act.

Seventeen Hurt In Youngstown Fire

Four Firemen Are Seriously Injured At Blaze When Explosion Occurs

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 11.—While four persons, three of them firemen, today were in critical condition in Youngstown hospital and 14 other persons were recovering from burns at hospitals and homes. Fire Chief Harry Callan continued an investigation of the cause of the disastrous oil fire late Saturday at the Cities Service Co. Poland avenue near the city limits.

Combined loss to the Cities Service Co. and to the plants of the Akron Soap Co. and the Youngstown Hide and Tallow Co. adjoining the refinery, was estimated conservatively by Fire Chief Callan at $100,000. Firemen fought the blaze from 4 p.m. Saturday until 7 a.m. Sunday.

An explosion of a steel storage tank with 150,000-gallon capacity approximately two minutes after the first firemen arrived at the scene of the fire, showered firemen and civilians working within a radius of 20 feet from the tank with blazing gasoline.

The four whose condition was reported as critical today are:

THOMAS FITZGERALD, Republic Iron & Steel gatemen, 133 Elmwood.

TOM SAUSE, fireman.

JAMES SULLIVAN, fireman.

CAPTAIN JOSEPH JAMES.

Victims who condition was reported as "fair" today at Youngstown hospital are:

Capt. Thomas Richards, Capt. Claude Meeker, firemen; Harry Stronger and Lee Johnson.

Others whose condition was reported as "fair" in St. Elizabeth's hospital are:

Preston Carey, Cities Service Co. employee; Firemen James Lane and John Williams.

Those treated at hospitals and taken home were:

Assistant Chief Herman Steinforth, Charles Sherman, Lake Erie & Eastern railroad conductor; John Froehle, fireman; Fred Rabe, Girard, Republic Steel & Iron employee; Lew Jones, Girard, Republic Iron & Steel employee; Ed Thomas, manager of the Cities Service warehouse.

A check today revealed that eight of the 13 gasoline tanks, with 20,000 gallon capacity each, had exploded. Sections of the buildings occupied by the Youngstown Hide & Tallow Co. which contained hundreds of drums filled with alcohol were damaged by the fire.

Several hundred feet away from the tanks is the Republic Iron & Steel Co. benzol plant.

Central Bank In Youngstown Closed

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 11.—The audit of the books of the Central Bank Co., closed Saturday by the state bank examiners, was scheduled to start today.

In the meantime officers of the bank plan a second executive session, following several meetings over the week-end, to decide what steps can be taken to liquidate assets and open the bank.

James DeVine, superintendent of building and loan associations of Ohio, will be here Tuesday morning to take charge of the state's end of the work.

A. E. Reinmann, president, critic Monday, following the closure of the bank, was much improved today. None of the depositors will lose as a result of the closing, Reinmann has said.

The Central Savings and Loan Co., not affected by the closure of the Central Bank, will be open as usual Tuesday, but will require depositors to give 60-day notice before making withdrawal, officials say.

Firemen fought the blaze from 4 p.m. Saturday until 7 a.m. Sunday.

Burns To Death At Masury, O.

MASURY, Nov. 11.—John Perrott, 58, was burned to death early Sunday when his clothes caught fire from a bonfire beside which he was sleeping in a rear of the garage at the home of Michael Offee.

Perrott, a brother-in-law of Offee, had been living in the garage and doing odd jobs about the place. Offee told deputy sheriffs. It had been Perrott's practice, Offee said, to build a fire in the rear of the garage and cook his food.

Offee said that he saw Perrott last at 10 p.m. Saturday, when the latter was sitting by the fire Sunday morning when he found his body beside the ashes of the fire, charred. Offee said he did not know how Perrott's clothes caught fire and said he did not hear any cries, if Perrott did cry out.

Coroner J. C. Henshaw returned a verdict of accidental death. He said he believed Perrott fell asleep and rolled to the edge of the fire, his clothes igniting and suffocating him before he could call for help.

The body was taken to a Sharon morgue.

Schooner Crew Hungry, Devour Meat Very Raw

Without Food For Four Days Schooner Drifts Into Virginia Harbor Badly Distressed

(International News Service)
NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 11.—With a crew of eight men so ravenously hungry they devoured meat raw, the schooner Blakely, of Mobile, Ala., sailed into the Virginia Capes today, minus a topmast and flying a signal denoting the ship was without food. The Blakely sailed from Trinidad, West Indies, on September 2, with plenty of provisions for an ordinary trip. But a series of storms delayed progress and 400 miles off the capes a northeast gale blew her 200 miles off her course. The officers were unable to take bearings for two days.

When she sighted the capes today the men had been without food for four days. The tug Virginia sent meat, potatoes, bread, coffee and sugar aboard, the crew bolted the meat, not waiting for the cook to do his duties.

SEVENTH WARD NEWSMuch Rivalry In Attendance Contest In Mahoning M. E.*Blues Carry Lead At Morning Services; Other News Of Seventh Ward

Since the beginning of the attendance contest in the Mahoning Methodist church six Sundays ago there has been a great increase in attendance of the members of the Sabbath school and church congregation. Also there have been many new scholars brought into the Sunday school.

There is much rivalry between the two sides in the contest. At the Sabbath school and morning church service on Sunday the blue side carried off the lead for the second Sunday, but lost out again in the evening church service. The reds are still leading the contest by over 100 points. The contest is now just about half over. Sunday was the sixth Sunday of the contest. It will continue for seven more Sundays.

Special music marked the church services on Sunday. There was an anthem at the morning service by the choir. Sunday evening at the church service the Sabbath school orchestra played several selections. Also there was an anthem by the church choir and a selection by a men's quartet, comprised of Dr. C. W. Davis, Loy Gwin, J. W. Miller, M. C. Adams. Loy Gwin is church chorister and leader of the orchestra.

Our original strictly net prices in plain figures remain on every article along with the new reduced prices for the anniversary sale, so anyone can readily tell of the actual savings.

To avoid any possible misunderstanding, we desire to make it plain that it is not our purpose nor intention to imitate common sales with special sale goods or promises of about one half of the regular price. We believe that such practice is contrary to common duty and respect to the trade and to ourselves. Stocks Drop In Short Session

All Sections Of Stock Market Loses Ground Under Selling Pressure Today

MARKET IS OPEN BUT THREE HOURS

By W. S. COUSINS

L. N. S. FINANCIAL EDITOR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—All sections of the stock market lost ground today under the steady pressure of a continuous stream of selling orders which poured into the market from the opening and accelerated as the three-hour session advanced.

Though the volume of trading was cut down to approximately 1,000,000 shares, the trend of prices was opened up as the day advanced. The bears trained their heavy guns on United States Steel common, which broke nearly 10 points to 162½ in the late trading. American Can was also under fire and broke 10 points to 105 1-8. General Electric dipped under 200 for a loss of 16; Westinghouse lost 12 points and numerous 5 and 8-point losses were recorded in the low-priced stocks.

Conditions Unchanged.

General conditions in the stock market were unchanged. The tape was within 6 to 15 minutes of actual trading and no disorder was seen in any section of the market. It was simply a case of steady and persistent selling pressure on a market unable or unwilling to take stocks except at concessions in prices. Not the slightest indication of a rally was seen as buying power quietly but surely evaporated, the pools and professional leaving the market to its own resources.

High priced specialties sustained heavy losses as the session drew to a close. Eastman Kodak at 159 was down about 13 points for day and nearly 10 points on the move. International Tel. lost 6 points; American and Foreign Power was down 8; American can down 11; New York Central down 12.

Refuses New Trial In Ferrante Case

Judge Chambers Hands Down Opinion On Search Of Wampum House By Officials

Application for a new trial was refused by Judge Chambers this morning in the case of Louis Ferrante against County Detective William G. Fleming, Constables W. J. Graham and J. W. Miller and state police, William Brush and H. M. Muncie.

This was a case growing out of the search of the home of Ferrante at Wampum, the verdict being in favor of the defendants. On October 29, 1927, the defendants went to the home of Ferrante to search for liquor. They found some wine but no other liquor and Ferrante was not arrested. Ferrante claimed that the warrant for the search did not properly describe his premises.

It developed that previously the officials had arrested James Aiello in a neighboring township and he had complained that they were going after him and letting others escape. He told them they stated that Patsy Nero had a quantity of liquor in the garage of Ferrante and that Ferrante had sold some of it.

He was taken to the office of Justice of the Peace J. R. Howell of Taylor township where he made an affidavit to this effect. At his direction Justice Howell drew a map indicating the location of Ferrante's house, but naming Main street instead of Beaver street. Although there was a mistake in the name of the street the house was properly located on the map so that the officials were able to find it. On this map a search warrant was issued. When the officials searched the premises Ferrante objected on the grounds that his home had been located on the wrong street in the warrant. It was on this grounds that the suit was brought. In his opinion refusing a new trial Judge Chambers held that the location of the house had been sufficiently described.

WHERE GAS EXPLOSION TOOK HEAVY LIFE TOLL

Killing five men outright and injuring, probably fatally, two women and four other men, a terrific gas explosion demolished the plant of the Timms Spring company at Elyria, O. The factory literally flew apart in all directions and detonations of the blast could be heard for 10 miles when a worker entered the gas-filled building and lighted a cigarette, according to survivors. Dr. Coleman in closing asked the question "Are we going to follow up our dollar with an imperialistic policy?" and emphasized the danger of doing so. He lauded the appointment of Dwight W. Morrow to the ambassadorship of Mexico. President Hoover's policy is heartily in alignment with the statesman in Mexico. Dr. Coleman said.

The Geneva professor summed up his interesting address by declaring that President Hoover is willing to develop good will and that he is willing to go just as far in cultivating it as public opinion allows.

Armistice Day Being Quietly Observed In College Town; Other News

GROVE CITY, Nov. 11.—Armistice day is being celebrated very quietly today in Grove City. The Cooper-Bessemer and other plants ceased operations for the day.

Dr. Coleman pointed out that prior to the World War the United States was a "debtor nation," and that it had the complex of a man in debt. Now, he stated, America is a "creditor nation" with 15 billions of dollars invested in foreign lands. He estimated that at the rate our country is acquiring outside capital that in 1940 America would have 22 billions of dollars invested abroad.

The college professor emphasized good will, which he said America must cultivate. "Our country," he said, "must protect its foreign investments not by means of force but by

Compensation Case Decree Is Affirmed

Judge Chambers Hands Down Opinion In Case Of Tony De Joseph

to receive $12 per month for an indeterminate period on the grounds of total disability. This was in November, 1923.

In April, 1926, the defendant filed a petition, alleging that the claimant was only partially disabled, and asking that the compensation be reduced.

After a hearing it was agreed that the compensation be $12 per week for a period of 89 weeks from April 1, 1926, or 215 weeks in all. In October, 1928, claimant filed a petition alleging total disability and asking that his payments, which had expired, be re-instated. This action was dismissed by the referee as it had not been made before the expiration of the former order. It was taken before the compensation board where the referee was affirmed and the appeal dismissed. It was then taken to court which resulted in the affirmation of the decree of the compensation board.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Unconscious Ridicule By Teachers Makes Adolescents Over-Sensitive

(Editor's Note: Garry C. Myers, Ph.D., is head, Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University, and editor of Babyhood.)

As a rule the teacher of the grades seems to be more considerate of the feelings of her pupils than the teacher in the junior and senior high school.

The average youth above all else fears ridicule. Both boys and girls are particularly sensitive.

Most teachers of junior and senior high schools seem unfamiliar with the sufferings of their pupils, else they would be much more considerate and humane. There is an occasional adolescent who is paralyzed when called upon to stand before the class. A wise teacher will not torture him by demanding that he stand. She will let him sit to speak.

A good many adolescent pupils are made over-sensitive and self-conscious while they are attempting to speak in class, not only by the fear of ridicule, but by the fear of excessive adverse criticism of their classmates.

Some junior high school pupils have told the writer that they found it hard to keep their minds upon what they were trying to recite because they kept wondering what Gene or Afton, or Herb were going to say when they had finished. How often, then, the classroom comes to be a place where children cannot concentrate and think, or express themselves effectively. How often it becomes a place for destroying personality!

Most ridicule by teachers comes unconsciously. Among the commonest sources of laughter by pupils are the errors and misfortunes of their comrades. They laugh not to hurt the feelings of another pupil; they just laugh because they find pleasure in doing so. For the same reason a teacher often makes a remark following a pupil's question, or attempt to recite, which causes the other pupils to laugh. The pupil so laughed at suffers, of course. Neither the teacher nor the comedies had meant to hurt his feelings. None the less they have done so unawares.

Even though it may come their turn to suffer, they seem not to learn from personal experience to be considerate of the fellow's feelings. They seem not to analyze what has happened. Neither does the teacher. But she should. She has studied some psychology and she has had more experience.

Unfortunately, most psychology is so remote from human experiences of the classroom, as to make but slight contribution to the way a pupil feels and to an effective mental hygiene program for the pupil.

If the adolescent youngster needs discipline let him have it, only don't Needless Pain!

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain.

Lots of suffering is, indeed, quite needless. Headaches, for example. They come without warning, but one can always be prepared. Bayer Aspirin tablets bring immediate relief. Keep a bottle at the office. Carry the small tin in your pocket. Then you won't have to hunt a drugstore, or wait till you get home.

And don't think Bayer Aspirin is only good for headaches, sore throats, and colds! Read the proven directions for relieving neuralgic, neuritic, rheumatic, and other aches and pains. Governor Fixes

Tuberculosis Day

Suggests Observance Of Tuberculosis Day On Sunday, December 1

HARRISBURG, Nov. 11.—Governor John S. Fisher in announcing today his acceptance of the Honorary Chairmanship of the Christmas Seal sale in Pennsylvania suggests the observance of December 1 as Tuberculosis Sunday and December 13 as Tuberculosis Day in the schools.

The Governor refers to tuberculosis as one of the State's greatest liabilities, saying:

"The wealth invested in the bodies and health of citizens is one of the State's greatest assets. This is strikingly illustrated in a study of the tuberculosis problem.

"In spite of the progress made in recent years in lessening the White Plague it is still one of our greatest liabilities. Tuberculosis stood sixth as the cause of death for all age groups in Pennsylvania last year but from age 1 to 35 it stood first. Between the ages 15 and 45 one out of each five deaths is caused by tuberculosis. The majority of the victims are in the prime of life. Each death in the younger age groups means not only the taking of a life but the loss of all future possibilities.

"Education is one of the most powerful weapons that can be used in combating tuberculosis. As one means of disseminating health knowledge plans are being made to observe Tuberculosis Sunday in places of worship on December 1 and Tuberculosis Day in the schools on Friday, December 13. With this preventable disease striking hardest in the early years of life it is natural that churches and schools should have an unusual interest in this problem. Tuberculosis Day provides an opportunity to focus the attention of these large groups upon the health practices that are so important in fighting this scourge.

"The 1929 Christmas Seal portrays a bell ringer sending forth a message of health and happiness to remind people that sickness can be prevented. The ringing of many of these bells during the Christmas season will mean better health for Pennsylvanians next year."

Dozen Bucks County Farmers In 400 Club

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 11.—A dozen Bucks county farmers have qualified for the 1929 Keystone 400-Bushel Potato club. J. B. R. Dickey, farm crops extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, said today.

Two other farmers exceeded the 500-bushel mark, Charles R. Miller, of Quakertown, producing 520.8 bushels, and Chester A. Helsel, of Chalfont, growing 508.3 bushels.

Other members reported from Bucks county are: Oscar S. Rosenthal, Quakertown, 489.1 bushels; E. O. Mason, Quakertown, 469 bushels; Harvey H. Baum, Hilltown, 445.1 bushels; I. State Engineers Train 6,600 Adults

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 11.—The Pennsylvania State College is reaching 6600 adults in their home towns this year through its engineering extension department. Instruction is offered in thirty main school and a number of branches. Much of the work which consists largely of technical training, is being done in cooperation with industries and with the Y. M. C. A's.

Distribution of the students making this use of the State College facilities is: home study, 3400; mining branch schools, 1500; three-year branch schools, 600; class centers, 500; foreman training, 400; cooperative schools, 200.

Atoms And Stars

By S. S. MYERS

I was talking with a friend a few days ago who said, "Some of us were discussing matter the other evening and I said that all matter is made up of atoms and that every atom is a little solar system." They laughed at me and said I had solar systems on the brain, evidently implying that I have wheels in my head. I wish you would write an article about atoms." I said I would, and here it is:

All creation is composed of atoms. A single drop of water contains millions of them, each one a miniature solar system with electrons going around the central nucleus millions of times every second.

We live in a world which seems to be made up of solid matter while in reality it consists of separated electrons which are particles of electric force. In science space is only a relative thing; the electrons in the atoms are as little crowded for space as the planets that revolve around the sun.

The human body, as well as that of all other animals, is made up of billions upon billions of atoms and each atom is a miniature solar system. If the atoms in any part of the body should cease to function—that is, if they should cease to be solar systems, that part of the body would be dead.

The scientist looks down through the microscope to the smallest particles of creation, and upward through the telescope to the arrangement of the heavens and he discovers a marvelous oneness in it all. And by understanding the atom he is able to read, measure and weigh the stars.

Our sun is a million times larger than the earth, and there are suns in space a million times larger than our sun. The vastness of our universe staggers the human intellect; but it is only a part of the whole. There are other universes outside of ours—we know not yet how many, but there

Gyroscopic Robot Flies Plane Automatically

One of the most complicated performances ever achieved by man, flying an airplane under all conditions of weather and darkness, has been accomplished by the use of this Sperry gyroscopic robot, at the extreme left. This, however, is not the only achievement made in conquering the air. At the upper right is shown the "Umbrella Plane," which it was assumed would be useful in case of forced landings. In a test at Royal Oak, Michigan, it performed a new innovation in aeronautics, instead of flying it danced around the field. The perfection of airplanes has brought forth many instances of heroism. In the lower right is shown Thomas Carroll, who has tested all makes of freak planes for more than twelve years, with Douglas Davis, winner of the Cleveland Air Derby, who broke the record for flying between New York and Atlanta.

AMERICAN WOMEN INTERPRET PARIS MODES TO HARMONIZE WITH OWN PERSONALITIES

Paris is admittedly the hub of the fashion world. But American women have formed a definite habit of interpreting the modes set by Paris to their own individualities. Take the evening wrap that is worn with the new long gowns. It is undergoing various interpretations. In the long length it is amazingly smart, as pictured at the extreme left, in brilliant green rayon velvet with fox collar—an original Callot model. Third from left is another green wrap—emerald with ermine decorations, an American design from Molyneux is pictured, extreme right, in sapphire blue rayon velvet with chinchilla collar. In oval, second from left, is a velvet afternoon frock for the sub-deb with feminine collar, while in the corresponding oval, right, is one of those chic velvet ensembles, consisting of jacket, skirt and printed blouse.

LEFT HER WAITING AT THE ALTAR

Waiting at the church doesn't appeal to Miss Aileen Bowen, 20, of Chicago, so she is suing Michael Conroy, 45, retired hotel and real estate man, for $200,000 for breach of promise. She declares Conroy, her godfather, failed to appear at the church after furnishing her an apartment and buying her a ring, merely sending her a note of apology saying he had to help his sister clean house.

Plane Covered With Ice
Drops 4,000 Feet Into Pennsylvania Woods

(International News Service)
PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Nov. 11.—"It really should have been a pine box instead of this bed—but I'm happy!"

Propelled up in a bed in the Philipsburg hospital, Jack Webster, Plainfield, N. J., air-mail flier, grinned philosophically today when asked how he felt and what were his reactions to the 4,000-foot fall of his New York-Cleveland plane at Rattlesnake mountain early Saturday.

Webster's left arm is in splints, the arm being fractured and the little finger of the left hand also being broken. He is covered with body bruises and his condition, while not serious, is extremely painful.

Webster had left Bellefonte at 2:05 a. m., Saturday on his westward flight to Cleveland. Shortly after leaving the Bellefonte port, he ran into a hail storm and in a few moments found himself losing altitude. A coating of ice formed on his wings and was forcing him down.

Crawls From Wreck

Webster has no recollection of the crash but regained consciousness hours later and crawled from the wreckage.

Dragging himself through the underbrush and across the rough slopes of Rattlesnake mountain, his progress broken by intermittent periods of fitful slumber, the pilot was found late Saturday night, twenty miles from the scene of the crash.

He was rushed to Philipsburg hospital where he was as amazed as hospital physicians to learn that bruises and a broken arm constituted his sole injuries and that he would be able to leave the hospital within a few weeks.

When Baritone's Voice Finds Pole, He Decides To Leave Concert Field

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—There will always be one incident that will stand out for the writer as the great radio thrill. Surely nothing ever will surpass it.

It was one night a few weeks ago, when Reinhard Werrenrath was broadcasting to Commander Byrd way down in the Antarctic. The great baritone stood before the "mike" in a New York studio, powerful and Nordic looking, his voice telling the feeling in his heart, as he sang the songs his old friend loved.

Commander Byrd Speaks
Suddenly we were interrupted with a message from Commander Byrd himself—just a few minutes after the concert started. It was:

"Your concert coming in fine. It is splitting the cold Antarctic night."

It seemed so uncanny, even to the veterans, who were used to having the tremendous and eerie in radio brought home to them all of the time. The thought that Dick Byrd and his brave boys could be brought a little happiness in hearing the lovely little Lois Bennett, Reinhard Werrenrath and his New York Alumni Glee club from the deep night of the South Pole, was almost too much.

When Werrenrath finished he was visibly moved with emotion. We were amazed when he revealed his plans.

"I'm giving up concert and going into radio altogether. One reason is that I can reach millions over the radio, when in concert it is only possible to sing for the few thousands who are financially able to attend concerts. Then, too, there is the tire-

A Football Star

"Werrie" was born in Brooklyn. He is an operatic, an oratorio and a concert baritone—the composer of "Siesta," "The Cavalier Song," and editor of the Arion collection, two volumes of Scandinavian songs. And he was a leader of the glee club at New York university, from which he was graduated, and the conductor of the University Heights Choral society for four years.

In school life he was a crack athlete—football star and swimming instructor. Werrenrath is an American institution. There is so much to tell!

Davis Addresses Beaver Falls Vets

Annual Memorial Service For World War Dead Is Held Sunday Afternoon

Several local World War veterans were in Beaver Falls Sunday afternoon where they attended the annual memorial service for the deceased veterans of the World War in Beaver county.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis was the principal speaker of the afternoon. Mr. Davis spoke on the strides that are being made toward promoting world peace. He stated that the barbarity of war must give way to morals and law and that no greater tribute could be paid those who lost their lives in the World War than to work towards this goal.

The services were held under the auspices of Col. Joseph H. Thompson Post No. 261 American Legion. Fifty-eight crosses were placed on grassy mounds on the state representing the dead of the Beaver Falls and Koppel posts, American Legion.

ELLWOOD CITY ELEVEN DEFEATS NEW BRIGHTON ON HOME FIELD 31 TO 0

Tubers Travel Down Valley
On Saturday And Return With Victory

Several Long Runs Give Fans Thrill In Contest Passes Feature

By TONY PASTA
Special News Correspondent.

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 11.—A revamped and determined eleven from the Ellwood City high school traveled to New Brighton on Saturday and returned home with an overwhelming victory of 31-0 over the Beaver valley aggregation. The Lee machine was working in perfect condition and took advantage of the opportunity of piling up a large score in an attempt to avenge the defeat received at the hands of Harding two weeks ago.

Coch Gibson's eleven fought hard in attempting to score on the blue and white and almost succeeded in doing so had the Tubers not tightened up. Ellwood's superb playing kept them in possession of the oval in most of the battle and in the last few minutes of play Lee sent in the entire second team but before the contest came to a close he again injected the first string.

The Lee men outplayed the opponents in every department and succeeded in crossing the line shortly after the opening of the tilt.

Long runs by Justine, King, Pastin and Howe thrilled the crowd but the runs made by the last two were not effective as both were brought back. Pastin's run was ruled out because of an offside and Howe's, which was a pretty 50-yard sprint, was brought back to the 45-yard line where one of the blue and white men had clipped from behind. Ellwood also received a 25-yard penalty for this offense.

Capo and Ecoff led the attack for the crimson and gold. The former made a long run in the first session by accepting the second kickoff and running 45 yards. The latter was especially effective in tossing the oval. Steinfield accepted one of his toses and brought the ball within scoring distance. Brashears and Bedison played well on the line.

Game Is Started.

Ellwood kicked off to the opponents' 33. Ecoff punted when his mates failed to make a first. The Tubers made short work of the first marker. After a bad start on the first play King came back again on the next and tore off a first down.

Justine continued the march down the field with a pretty end run which netted 30 yards. King carried the ball and this time clipped off 15 for another first down. On the next play Ellwood's plucky fullback crossed the line with the oval tucked under his arms. Barile kicked over for the extra point.

Ellwood kicked off and it was not accepted by the opponents as Barile booted the pigskin near the goal line. When the Tubers kicked off again Capo accepted and with a strong interference skirted down the field like a flash and had carried the oval 45

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 11.—Today is a memorable day in the year for all the ex-service organizations of the country, and the J. Wilbur Randolph post of Ellwood City in particular.

The Memorial Day observance for the local Legion really started Sunday morning with a special service for the Legion auxiliary and other patriotic organizations in the Providence Baptist church, at which time they marched to the church in a body.

THE GREATEST DISASTER THAT BEFELL THE ALLIED CAUSE IN 1917 WAS THE FINAL COLLAPSE OF RUSSIA.

THE ALLIES HAD EXPECTED GREAT THINGS OF THE RUSSIAN PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT THAT SUCCEEDED THAT OF THE Czar AFTER THE REVOLUTION OF MARCH, 1917.

BUT THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE WERE CLAMORING FOR PEACE. THE ARMY WAS MUTINOUS AND THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT WAS HAVING GREAT DIFFICULTY IN MAINTAINING ITS POSITION.

AFTER THE DISASTROUS FAILURE OF THE LAST RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE IN JULY, 1917, PETROGRAD WITNESSED ANGRY PUBLIC DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST THE KERENSKY GOVERNMENT.

IN THE LATTER PART OF AUGUST THE GERMANS LAUNCHED A GREAT DRIVE AGAINST THE RUSSIANS, WHICH RESULTED IN THE CAPTURE OF RIGA, AN IMPORTANT RUSSIAN CITY ON THE BALTIC. THE LOSS OF RIGA INCREASED THE DESIRE OF THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE FOR PEACE—AT ANY PRICE.

DURING THE SUMMER OF 1917, ANARCHY SPREAD IN RUSSIA. IN THE LARGE CITIES THE WORKERS SEIZED THE FACTORIES; IN THE COUNTRY THE PEASANTS DROVE OUT THE LAND OWNERS, AND DIVIDED THE ESTATES AMONG THEMSELVES.

SOLDIERS DESERTED THE ARMIES AT THE FRONT IN DROVES, AND HURRIED HOME TO SHARE IN THE DIVISION OF THE PRIVATE LANDS. THE GERMANS COULD HAVE PUSHED ON TO PETROGRAD, BUT SPARED THEMSELVES THE EFFORT, KNOWING THAT INTERNAL TURMOIL WAS DESTROYING RUSSIA MORE SURELY THAN A HOSTILE INVASION COULD.

Pitt, Irish And Purdue Head Undefeated List

Pitt Leader In East, Purdue And Notre Dame Are Unbeaten In Mid-West

Illinois And Michigan Hand Army And Harvard Set-backs; California Unbeaten

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service, Sports' Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—After forty-eight hours, a triumph is liable to be mitigated by the concerns of the immediate future and even a tragedy is just a headstone, recording the fact that hope once lived. But there were parous deeds committed in inter-collegiate football on Saturday and, in spite of the softening interval, the impression persists today that the effort of some of these will not be without permanence.

The undefeated Pittsburgh team won from Washington and Jefferson by three touchdowns, thus plastering a chattel mortgage on the Eastern title. The undefeated Notre Dame team won from Drake, 19 to 7, thus preserving its chase and immaculate record against the East, middle West and South. The hitherto undefeated Minnesota team lost to Iowa, 9 to 7, and Ohio State was beaten, 18 to 6, by Northwestern, thus sending Purdue in as the impending winner of the big ten championship. The hitherto undefeated teams of Boston College and Villanova were defeated for the first time in two years.

Texas Christian on Top

The undefeated Texas Christians team beat rice, 24 to 0, and was away winging in front of the Southwest field; Tennessee and Tulane, another pair of lily whites, won again and Vanderbilt beat Georgia Tech, 23 to 7, to keep its conference record inviolate.

Incidentally, California added to its coast prestige by winning easily from Montana, 53 to 18, while Utah virtually ended the Rocky Mountain race with a 12 to 3 defeat of Colorado College.

Time, as alleged, may soften, even obliterate the consequences of this day and then again, they may live to go into the records as crucial events of a great season. The latter possibility is far from unlikely. Nor is the fact that Illinois beat Army, 17 to 7, and Michigan won Harvard, 14 to 12, liable to be ignored by the historians of the campaign, since it meant that the two losers of the big ten beat two winners of the East. This undoubtedly proved something and some day I mean to find out what it was.

Oklahoma Beaten

Another thing: little was supposed to happen in the big six but what did happen was important. Oklahoma, the leader on Saturday morning, was beaten by a touchdown by Kansas, thus leaving the road open to Nebraska, which drew a blank for the day. The huskers now are the only undefeated entry in the lists.

HALDY - HALFBACK

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 11.—In Ben Haldy, right half, Westminster has one of the best punters in the tri-state district. Haldy proved in the Bethany game a week ago that he is an elusive ball carrier. The Titans will depend upon this Forest Hills Pa., lad to keep Westminster's rapidly improving team on a par with Elmer Layden's numerous Dukes on Friday night at Forbes Field.

Greensburg Next Grid Opponents For New Castle

Undefeated W. P. I. A. L. Contender Here Saturday For Battle At Franklin Field

By "BUGS" WALTHER

FIRST Touchdown Hurts

New Castle high's football date for this coming Saturday afternoon is none too rooseate. Greensburg high, with an undefeated team, comes to Franklin field.

Aerial Attack Fails

New Castle's flaunted aerial attack was somewhat smothered. Twelve times New Castle attempted passes, but only five of them were completed.

One of them for the touchdown. Ashbaugh's team with a heretofore wicked passing attack crossed up the locals.

It was wholly unexpected and came at a time when the New Castle hopes were highest. Their morale dashed in the dirt, the New Castle team fought back with all the strength that they had. The Bridenbaugh team midway of the second quarter deadlocked the count at 6-6, by scoring on a forward pass that Hannan took from McAuley. The New Castle team would now get going, this seemed to be the opinion of the Youngstowners.

They expected New Castle to open up with a great offensive drive that would surely produce several more touchdowns. They are still waiting. The touchdows are still unscored.

To be sure the breaks went against New Castle. New Castle drew 95 yards in penalties. Some deserved, others questionable. South had 20 yards called on them. The red and black team had their penalties called at inopportune times. Several times within scoring distance the New Castle team drew 15 yard penalties that hurt.

Drive Is Halted

New Castle started off well in the third quarter. Hannan took the kick-off and ran it back 17 yards. Hannan circled end for 8 yards. Thomas and Alexander made two first downs in rapid succession. New Castle took the ball to South's 46-yard line. A fifteen yard penalty was suffered McAuley heaved a pass to Thomas good for 16 yards. New Castle lost the ball on downs.

Everth on two plays ran the ball to the New Castle 48-yard line, clicking off 11 yards for a first down on one play and racing helter skelter through a broken field for 26 yards. New Castle's line stiffened and held

Both Teams Score On Forward Passes

New Castle High Held On Even Terms By Previously Badly Whipped South Team; Severe Penalties Hurt New Castle; Neither Team Threatens After Touchdowns; McAuley, Thomas And Alexander Best Bets In Backfield; Everth And Franklin Play Best For South High; Crowd Of 6,000 Witness Game In South High Stadium.

By "BUGS" WALTHER

EADY to be discarded along with the "has-beens", an inspired South High Youngstown football team handed New Castle High School eleven a neatly wrapped surprise package at Youngstown on Saturday afternoon, by holding the Bradenbaugh machine to a 6-6 deadlock.

A crowd estimated at about 6,000 sat in the South High concrete stands and watched the Ashbaugh team trying to redeem themselves for a somewhat disastrous grid season. Beaten four times and taking the position of the underdogs, the blue and red eleven matched everything that New Castle High tried. Both teams dented the goal-line by virtue of aerial thrusts.

In the matter of ground gaining the New Castle team had the best of it, making 16 first downs to 8 for South High. If ever two beefy fighting lines put up a battle the boys did Saturday. The trackling was somewhat weak, but inside the danger zone the linemen of both teams played great defensive football.

Locals Off Color

It was simply a case of an inspired team tangling with a team that was too confident. South High was seeking to regain prestige in a town where you must be a winner to be recognized. The business like manner in which they went about the job of tying up the New Castle team brought disappointment to many followers of the Lawrence Countians.

New Castle High looked like two or three touchdowns better than South previous to the engagement.

Hannan Scores On Pass

The second quarter opened with South on the New Castle 27-yard line. Everth hit tackle for a yard. Everth passed to Franklin for what would have been a touchdown but the ball was deflected by a New Castle man. South lost the ball on downs.

New Castle began a steady drive down the field with Alexander and Hannan carrying the ball for two first-downs in a row. Thomas took a double pass from Alexander and ran 10 yards through a broken field. New Castle worked the ball to the 29-yard line. McAuley hurled a pass to Hannan good for 20 yards and Hannan raced 9 yards for the touchdown that put New Castle on even terms with the Ohioans. McAuley's placement kick for extra-point was blocked.

The teams battled back and forth in the middle of the field for the remainder of the quarter, neither team being able to gain consistently. South High had the ball on their own 20-yard line as the first half ended. New Castle tried a number of forward passes with the moments of the quarter waning, but failed to get off a pass for touchdowns. Alexander heaved one to McAuley that New Castle gained 33 yards on. The locals were in position to score in the closing minutes of the first half but two penalties totaling 30 yards prevented any scores. New Castle's only recourse was to try passing, and they kept the air blue with them.

NEW CASTLE AND SEWICKLEY TIE ON FORWARD PASSES

New Castle and Sewickley played a 1-1 soccer tie game at Scotland Lane, Saturday afternoon. Gwyn Lewis scored for New Castle. Harris was fouled and Harris was entrusted with the spot kick. Maina played a splendid game for the Sewickley team.

New Castle won the toss, and in the opening minutes of the game the home supporters were greatly surprised by the considerably improved play of the locals, showing better speed and this combined with good understanding had the visiting defense on the alert throughout the game.

A breakaway by the local black and white forwards was smartly engineered and clever work by McCall on the left wing resulted in considerable headway. After cleverly eluding the defense he neatly put the ball across to Semple to who shot for goal which was saved by the Sewickley goalkeeper at the expense of a corner kick.

From the resulting kick Arnold missed opening the score for New Castle by inches. The home side continued to exert pressure in their repeated attacks, but despite this Sewickley continued to enjoy their fair portion of the game. Mills who captained the opposing eleven played a marvelous game throughout, and was the mainstay of the team.

New Castle Braces

New Castle came near to opening the score when about five minutes before the interval Harris raced clean away and passed to McCall to send in a stinging shot which McCombs for Sewickley did well to clear.

When the game was resumed Sewickley opened strongly, but their pressure did not materialize. New Castle then attacked, considerable ground was gained, but Jones ended with a shot from 15 yards out which missed its mark by inches with the goalkeeper beaten.

For a time New Castle was forced on the defense, and midway through the second half Mills and Love essayed a movement which resulted in the latter player opening the score for the visitors.

Soon afterwards wit the locals forcing the attack Harris was fouled in the penalty area, a penalty kick was given against Sewickley. Gwyn Lewis was entrusted with the spot kick and scored New Castle's equalizing goal. In the closing minutes of the game Geib and Semple got through by clever passing, the shot for goal being saved in brilliant style by the visitors' goalkeeper.

World War Vet In Pittsburgh Tries Suicide

Veteran Suffering Hallucinations Barricades Self In Home; Defies Police

ENDS SIEGE WITH BULLET IN HEAD

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—Exactly at 11 o'clock this morning, exactly 11 years to the minute after he was released from the horror of war and the fear of death, Edward Bannon, 34-year-old veteran of the World War, ended a 12-hour battle with police who were using tear gas developed in that war in an effort to get him out of the attic in which the veteran had barricaded himself and from which he had exchanged bullets with his besiegers.

Shoots Self in Head

At 11 o'clock Bannon brought himself rest from the fears that assailed his disarranged mind and shot himself.

Bannon, suffering visions and hallucinations that he was being hunted by Detroit gangsters and bootleggers, had locked himself in the attic in his home in Bond street here yesterday. He barricaded himself, blocking the stairs leading to his retreat with furniture and obstructing the windows in the same manner. After he drove off his sister and his mother with a pistol, they called police.

Lieut. Harry Hatters and Patrolman Louis Foster answered the call and were met with a volley of shots. Five times the crazed veteran fired at them from his second-story lookout, commanding the approaches to his fortress in true military style.

Use Tear Bombs

Police and detectives tried to storm the attic early this morning without success. Tear gas bombs were hurled and fell harmlessly against the furniture protected windows.

"What's the matter, Eddie?" Lieut. Charles Cahill called to Bannon. "They're going to get me yet," Bannon answered.

"Who's going to get you?" "Bootleggers from Detroit. They were to come last night and take me for a ride."

Bannon's mother then appealed to him, asking, in tears:

"Come on down and get some breakfast, Eddie."

"I'll come down tomorrow when everything is all right," the veteran answered.

Then came the end of the siege. Police, his mother and his sister heard one more shot and "taps" had probably sounded for Edward Bannon. He has a bullet in his head and doctors say he has little chance to recover.

Bannon came home from Detroit 10 months ago and has been making his home with his mother since that time. He had never shown any signs of hallucinations prior to last night, his mother said, although he had been shell shocked while he was in training in one of the cantonments during the war. He had never been overseas.

During his service in the army Bannon had won a medal for marksmanship.

School Directors Defendants In Suit

Foster Bros. Trying To Collect $3,000 Bus Hire In Neshannock Township

The case of Foster Brothers against the Neshannock township school board was taken up before Judge Hildebrand this morning. This is a case in which Foster Bros. leased two school buses to Neshannock township directors at a rental of $250 per month, the buses to be used in transporting school children.

It is claimed that the school district failed to pay and that there is now $3,000 due Foster Brothers. The school board claims that it was advised not to pay by the township auditors when it was found that the expenditures of the board had exceeded the amount which school boards can legally collect, as taxes.

Before Judge Chambers the case of the New Castle Box company against the city of New Castle was taken up. This is a case in which the box company is claiming damages by reason of water from city streets having been turned on their property.
